Hi Everybody,

Happy New Year! Here's my first workshop for 2017 and I'm really excited to be having it at The Cobble. Bartholomew's Cobble is a wonderful place to visit, and has lots of birds and animal specimens to study and sketch from. We will work in the natural history museum and visitors center.

There is a materials fee of $35.00 for everything you will need to make a handmade sketchbook. Or, bring whatever art supplies you have on hand. I will have supplies for sale and I accept credit cards.

To register email Margaret Moulton:

mmoulton@thetrustees.org

And for directions and more information about The Cobble visit:

Hope to see you there!

Best,
Leslie
